NICOLAS TRENTESAUX

CEO SIAL Global Network

The agri-food community has proven to be extremely resilient and has demonstrated its ability to weather these multiple health and economic challenges to continue to maintain the food chain for the benefit of the consumer. We are all very proud of this.

Beyond the immediate turmoil, we must stay the course and work harder than ever to meet the global food challenges of the next 20 to 30 years: Being able to cope with an unavoidable population growth (10 billion mouths to feed in 2040?). Our production models won't be able to meet this challenge. The food transition is therefore more than ever inevitable. The challenge is immense: to reinvent our models to produce and distribute in quantity, in quality, in a socially and ecologically responsible manner, and finally in an accessible way to face a heterogeneous and stressed purchasing power.

This challenge is a real global social issue, but it is also a struggle for each of the players in the food chain, who must now make choices to prepare for the future. This period of crisis is a catalyst for growth and it is therefore urgent that everyone find their bearings and make strategic decisions for the future.

Once again this year, SIAL Canada will be a formidable enhancer to support these challenges and orchestrate the business of today and tomorrow. As a place of business as well as inspiration, SIAL Canada will bring together all the players in Toronto around physical meetings that will put our products back at the heart of our exchanges: let's celebrate together our passion for food and work collectively for this food transition.

We look forward to seeing you.

SIMON BAILLARGEON

Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Agri-Food Export Group Quebec-Canada and Vice President, Business Development at Sollio Agriculture

Dear exporters,
Dear buyers,
Dear members of the industry,

It is with great enthusiasm that I welcome you to the 2023 edition of SIAL Canada, the largest food innovation show in North America. SIAL Canada is an exceptional networking platform and a hub for the greatest innovations in the food industry. It offers everyone the opportunity to witness the richness and diversity of a flourishing industry.

As an exceptional showcase of global food know-how, the event addresses the major issues and challenges facing us, as well as providing a current and comprehensive portrait of the major trends that will influence the future.

Year after year, hundreds of exporting manufacturers take part in this unique Canadian opportunity to take advantage of the opening of international markets and to proudly showcase their products to the entire food industry. And it is with great pride that these companies will welcome buyers from over 60 countries who will be present at the event to discover our latest innovations and to whom we wish the warmest of welcomes. We hope that their incursion into our culinary world will become a vector for long-lasting and promising partnerships.

This major international event, which highlights the creativity and innovative strength of the food world, will once again offer dozens of opportunities for business meetings and innovative discoveries. You are all invited to take advantage of this opportunity to gather ideas, new products and contacts.

Enjoy the show.

MICHEL DÉPATIE

President of the Board of Directors of the Quebec Food Retailers Association (ADA) and owner of Marché Dépatie Inc. Metro Banner

I would like to welcome you to this 20th edition of the SIAL Canada show in Toronto.

The Quebec Food Retailers Association, as a partner and shareholder of SIAL Canada, is very proud of the show you are about to discover.

After two years in virtual mode, we were delighted to be in Montreal last year in person. It was an exceptional show. Again this year, you will have the chance to discover the latest trends in food. Every year, agri-food companies from all over the world demonstrate their know-how in terms of innovation and creativity. When I walk this show, I am always impressed by the quality of the exhibitors and I discover incredible new products that surprise me every time.

Furthermore, I invite my fellow retailers to discuss with the exhibitors, to create business relationships with them in order to introduce your customers to new products. As a retailer-owner, we have this immense opportunity to stand out and offer our customers unique and diversified products.

I would like to congratulate the entire SIAL Canada team who has done a remarkable job in preparing a show that will surprise you and impress you with the high quality and diversity of exhibitors.

Enjoy your visit and take advantage of this unique experience!

JUSTIN TRUDEAU

Prime Minister of Canada

It is with great honour that I welcome all of you to Toronto for SIAL Canada's 2023 show.

As your theme rightfully calls for, we do indeed need to own the change facing the food industry today. The host of global challenges that we are tackling call for new, different, transformative, and innovative ideas in all aspects of the agri-food industry.

That is not to say that there is reason to despair. All the trailblazers at this show are proof of the fact that the knowledge, the skills, the talent, and the passion that is needed to shape the industry's future is already there. And, I have the utmost confidence that together, you can all build a prosperous tomorrow.

And, our Government will always be there to support you in your efforts.

I hope that these three days fill you with hope, inspiration, and vigour. The world needs you at your best.

Thank you to SIAL Canada for your leadership at this crucial point in time. I wish you nothing but continued success, growth, and impact in the decades to come.

With my warmest regards!

MARIE-CLAUDE BIBEAU

Minister of Agriculture and Agri-Food

Welcome to agri-food professionals from Canada and the world gathering in Toronto for SIAL Canada 2023 – an outstanding showcase of innovations across our dynamic agri-food sector.

The Government of Canada strongly supports our agri-food sector, because it drives our economy and jobs, while feeding Canada and the world.

To help our products stand out in highly competitive global markets, we have recently refreshed the Canada Brand, an international marketing program that brings together the diverse Canadian agriculture, agri-food and seafood sectors to build recognition and demand for Canadian products in the international marketplace.

I encourage all export-ready, registered Canadian businesses that have a role in producing, promoting or supporting Canadian agriculture, food or seafood products, to take advantage of these free marketing tools, adapted to today's digital marketplace.

The maple leaf will fly higher than ever in the Indo-Pacific region, which I recently visited, when we open our first-ever agriculture office there - unleashing new opportunities to develop markets in the world's fastest-growing economy.

Demand for your innovative, nutritious, sustainable foods and beverages continues to grow. And our Government will help meet that demand with programs under the new Sustainable Canadian Agricultural Partnership, backed by a record federal-provincial-territorial investment of $3.5 billion in key priorities that will keep Canada's food sector a global leader in sustainable agriculture. Opportunities abound for our great Canadian agri-food sector - let's seize them together!

I wish everyone a wonderful event – connecting, learning, collaborating, and tasting!

Canada

LISA M. THOMPSON

Ontario Minister of Agriculture,
Food and Rural Affairs

Hello Everyone,

As Ontario Minister of Agriculture, Food and Rural Affairs, it is my honour to welcome you to the 2023 SIAL Canada trade show. I am pleased to see the show return to Toronto, because Toronto is the third largest food distribution hub in North America. I can confidently say that our agri-food supply chain is second to none, providing one in ten jobs across the province.

Walking through the show floor you will meet food processors, retailers and restaurants. Each of these exhibitors are here because they are proud of their business and eager to expand their network. I trust you will appreciate the quality products for which Ontario is known.

Our industry is global in scope. At this show, you will encounter exhibitors and visitors with ties in every corner of the world. As supply chains shift, and customer tastes evolve, there is more opportunity than ever in the agri-food sector.

As part of our government's Grow Ontario Strategy, we have set a target of increasing agri-food exports by 8 per cent annually by 2032. I am proud to share that Ontario agri-food stakeholders will work collaboratively to achieve this important goal.

I encourage all of you to make the most of your time while at SIAL! Be sure to reach out and make new connections as you strengthen existing relationships. There is an abundance of opportunities within the agri-food sector, and I wish all the best for a successful visit to the show.

Sincerely,

ANDRÉ LAMONTAGNE

Québec's Minister of Agriculture,
Fisheries and Food

The government of Québec is proud to once again be partnering with SIAL Canada. With approximately 800 exhibitors and 15,000 visitors from all over the globe, SIAL is the largest international food trade show in Canada. The Ministère de l'Agriculture, des Pêcheries et de l'Alimentation (MAPAQ) provides annual support for the event to promote Québec's bio-food products to visitors from around the world and help our businesses increase sales locally and abroad.

MAPAQ's goal is to help the bio-food industry and Québec's economy thrive by supporting local producers with the sale and export of their bio-food products. You'll have the chance to meet many of these amazing business owners in Toronto this year.

We couldn't be prouder of how the number of Québec businesses exhibiting at SIAL has increased year after year. It's showed that when it comes to doing business and adapting to even the most demanding markets, our skilled business leaders have no fear. In particular, our food processors have become famous for their innovative, healthy and diverse products. These are just a few of the reasons why Québec's food exports are on the rise.

I'd like to thank our bio-food businesses for their incredible performance. The hard work, passion and creativity of this industry's leaders are key drivers of economic prosperity in all of Québec's regions.

Happy SIAL Canada 2023!

SIAL CANADA TEAM

Welcome to SIAL Canada 2023 - North America's largest food innovation tradeshow. After a 4-year hiatus, we are absolutely thrilled to be back in Toronto, spotlighting innovation across the entire value chain.

As the only international food show in the country, SIAL Canada plays an instrumental role in bringing together food professionals - including buyers, sellers, thought-leader, trailblazers, CEOs, and young professionals - to connect, learn and collaborate, while fueling innovation, unlocking business opportunities, and shaping the future of the ever-changing agri-food industry.

A POWERFUL AND UNIFYING THEME

The 2023 edition of SIAL Canada also aims to positively shape the future, by opening the debate around a powerful and unifying theme, "Own the Change". Adopted by the entire SIAL network, this theme is an industry-wide call-to-action, to seize the reins of change and reimagine the future together.

Food is connected to nearly every aspect of our global economy and health. More than ever, from farm to table, consumers are demanding to know where their food comes from, who made it and what ingredients are included. As global citizens, we are becoming increasingly aware of the importance of prioritizing environmentally sustainable, economically viable and socially just food, and agriculture systems.

Over the next 3 days, we hope you capitalize on everything that SIAL Canada has to offer, by connecting, uniting, and engaging around a prosperous and sustainable future, fueled by new ideas, creative solutions, and game-changing innovations.

Thank you for attending SIAL Canada 2023. Enjoy the show!

A TOAST TO XAVIER PONCIN

Celebrating a 'Life Full of Flavor' at SIAL Canada

We cannot approach this new edition of SIAL Canada without a moving thought for Xavier Poncin who brutally left us last July. We all shared a sincere affection for Xavier. He was one of those intense characters who do not leave anyone indifferent.

Xavier had joined the world of trade shows in France in 1997. He joined Expo Canada France in 2009 as CEO: for the past 14 years, he led SIAL Canada with a masterful hand, always showing total commitment. Energy, tenacity, convictions: Xavier was a real fighter, a man of challenge.

SIAL Canada was truly the professional battle of his life and his mark will remain with the show and the entire agri-food community for a long time to come.

Our emotions remain unabated today and we have a special thought for Valentine and Thomas, his children, and his entourage.

#OWNTHECHANGE

Transitions, reinventions and global responsibility in the food industry

The agriculture and food processing industries face enormous challenges in the coming decade, as the global population continues to grow and expectations for sustainability and transparency increase. The need for new solutions is urgent, and innovation will be crucial to meeting the demands of producing more food while polluting less. SIAL Canada, as a leading trade show for food professionals, has adopted the powerful and unifying theme “Own the Change” to encourage exhibitors and visitors to work together to reimagine the future of the industry.

Through its conferences and networking events, featuring high-profile speakers, SIAL Canada provides exhibitors and visitors alike with targeted education on timely topics including: packaging (bulk, recycling, zero waste, zero plastic), urbanization (local, proximity production), health (ingredients of tomorrow, health food, alternative proteins), technology (foodtech, traceability, blockchain), and more.

“Own the Change” also means celebrating the industry’s trailblazers, change-makers and rising-stars. Specifically, through the new Start-Up Village, the Pitch-Competition and the SIAL Innovation Awards, SIAL Canada will be spotlighting food entrepreneurs and the innovations that are revolutionizing the way we produce, consume and inform ourselves about food.
